

A group of four people, two women and two men, are posing for a photo in front of a traditional Japanese building with a dark tiled roof and white walls. The building has a central entrance with a small shrine-like structure above it. The people are dressed in casual attire; the women are wearing white long-sleeved shirts and dark pants, while the men are wearing white long-sleeved shirts and dark pants. They are all smiling and making hand gestures. The background shows a hillside with bare trees under a cloudy sky.
